

Kevin Tallon

Kevin Tallon is a retired Navy Senior Chief and started turning on a Delta Midi after he retired. Kevin ordered through one of our dealers, David Ellsworth. Here's what Kevin has to say about his experience:

After attending David Ellsworth's turning class I quickly realized that I could not grow as a turner on the Delta. After consulting with David I went with the American Beauty and I could not have ordered a better product. One cannot go wrong buying a Robust Lathe, the quality and attention to detail are second to none.

If I might I would offer a plug to those on the fence about purchasing this lathe: if you're serious about turning attend David Ellsworth's class. You will not be disappointed as he is an awesome teacher and you will get the opportunity to turn on three different Robust models.
